Presented by: Fred Grossman, M.D., F.A.C.S.
Board Certified Urologist and Director of the Male Care Center

Current methods of evaluation and treatment for erectile dysfunction (ED) will be presented. Erectile dysfunction as an early sign of heart disease will be covered as well as the link to prostate problems. Various patients will relate their experiences with the latest penile implants. Time permitting, testosterone deficiency will also be discussed. Patients, spouses and all interested parties are welcome. Dr. Grossman will moderate the seminar and answer questions. If you would like to attend, please call:
